Helping Library Patrons with Financial Information Needs

How Can I Teach My Kids about Money?

17 Useful Information Resources

1. Thrive by Five
   A resource for teaching preschoolers about spending and saving

2. Help Your Children Grow Their Money Skills
   A parent portal from the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau arranged by grade level

3. Money as You Grow
   “20 things kids need to know to live financially smart lives”

4. Money as You Grow Booklist
   Books about money compiled by ALA’s Association for Library Service to Children

5. Career Exploration
   Job outlook, salary information and entry requirements from the Bureau of Labor Statistics

6. Allowances
   Best practices and FAQs about paying children an allowance

7. Children and Credit
   Practical articles from the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau

8. econlowdown
   A personal finance/economics education portal from the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis

9. Social Security and Children
   Information for parents from the Social Security Administration

10. Jump$tart Clearinghouse
    A database of curricula and other resources to teach financial literacy

11. K–12 Financial Education Standards
    Compiled by the Jump$tart Coalition for Personal Financial Literacy

12. Teens & Money
    Financial education learning materials compiled by the FINRA Foundation

13. Gen i Revolution
    A personal finance simulation game from the Council for Economic Education

14. Love Your Money
    An online money management course for college students
15. My Green
   An interactive campaign to help Native American youth manage their money

16. Pocket Cents
   Resources for parents and educators to teach children personal finance basics

17. TreasuryDirect KIDS
   A children’s portal sponsored by the U.S. Department of the Treasury